Every year, Ahlia University hosts a Careers Expo for all Ahlia students and alumni. Our careers expo is an important way for the University to help our students begin successful careers.

We are delighted to report that 2016 saw 66 private companies, training institutes and government authorities exhibiting, 38 more organisations than in 2015. This huge increase in the participating companies shows how valued Ahlia graduates are to the employment market within Bahrain.

Our 2016 Careers Expo was a highly successful event allowing our students and alumni an easy and informative opportunity to discuss their future. Our graduates are highly sought by organisations and private companies throughout Bahrain and the GCC enabling them to undertake positions with some of the top organisations within the GCC.

For the first time, the event was open to the general public who are seeking jobs and training opportunities within Bahrain and the GCC. We were pleased to see so many people visiting the Careers Expo and allowing them the chance to discuss their futures.

We strongly believe that our students should be given both academic and practical experience while studying at Ahlia, and every student has the opportunity to undertake an internship before they graduate.

This gives our students a chance to understand working culture and ethics, working to deadlines, the impact of their role and to develop employment skills such as communications and understanding direction.

These skills contribute to life long success and make Ahlia graduates some of the most preferred within the GCC.

We would like to extend our gratitude to all the companies, organisations and training institutes who contributed to making the 2016 Careers Expo such a great success and we look forward to welcoming you back in 2017.

Tamkeen is an initiative funded by the private sector for the private sector, tasked with developing Bahrain's private sector and positioning it as the key driver of economic development. Established in August 2006, Tamkeen is one of the cornerstones of Bahrain's national reform initiatives and Bahrain Economic Vision.

Tamkeen has two primary objectives: Firstly, fostering the creation and development of enterprises, and secondly, providing support to enhance the productivity and growth of enterprises and individuals.

Under each of those objectives, certain mechanisms and innovative support initiatives have been put in place by Tamkeen to address current and future gaps for individuals and enterprises in the private sector that have been identified by thorough studies of the labour market landscape.

For Bahrainis, Tamkeen's programmes range from developing the skills and capabilities of Bahrain's human capital, to promoting sound workplace ethics and training on leadership and management best practices, among others. For enterprises, Tamkeen provides programmes which offer enterprises with subsidised business support services, facilitate access to financing to bridge the enterprise financing gap, and enable entrepreneurship, to name a few.

To date, Tamkeen's programmes have benefited 100,000 Bahrainis and enterprises in the private sector.

In parallel, Tamkeen's programmes have played a key role in institutionalising new concepts within Bahrain's private sector, including SME and micro-financing, entrepreneurship as a viable career path, women empowerment, modern accounting and auditing systems within SMEs, and many other paradigms needed for a vibrant sustainable private sector.

Tamkeen's funds come from fees collected from the Labour Market Regulatory Authority.

The Telecommunications Regulatory Authority (TRA) was established in 2002 promulgating the Telecommunications Law in the Kingdom of Bahrain. The Board of Directors oversees the activities of TRA led by its Chairman, Dr Mohammed Al Amer. The General Director, Mr Mohammed Bubashait, is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Authority.

TRA carries out its duties independently and in a transparent and non-discriminatory manner. Ever since its inception, TRA's focused on liberalizing and developing the telecoms sector by promoting an effective and fair competition between established operators and new entrants while protecting the interest of consumers.

The drive to pave for a more robust and dynamic telecoms industry continues with the change in market dynamics; this has fuelled an unstinting resolve to augment service levels and exceed expectations on all fronts. TRA as per the Third National Telecoms Plan is requested to address areas of disadvantage such as mobile service, ultra-fast broadband, international supply, digital security and internet eco-system. TRA also believes in creating value; positioning telecommunications as a pillar of social and commercial growth for the Kingdom of Bahrain. Since 2002, more than 2,600 jobs were created – a 50% increase – and the industry has accounted to 4% of the GDP.

TRA's culture is driven by business excellence and continuous learning; as it invests heavily in the training and development of its employees. An integral element of its internal frameworks is innovation – as TRA promotes innovation across all departments and levels. TRA aims to ensure that the communications environment in the Kingdom meets consumer expectations - in return it has launched a number of initiatives. For example, Bahrain was the first country in the MENA region to introduce the Fixed Number Portability and in 2011, 22,000 consumers switched providers.

Also following negotiations with GCC nations, TRA introduced a cap on mobile roaming charges. Furthermore, it has insured that the regulatory environment stimulates competition; which in return has a led to a tariff reduction of an average of 25% across a number of services.

The Gulf Hotel and Gulf Convention Centre established itself as Bahrain's original five-star hotel when it opened its doors in October 1969. Today, the hotel has secured its presence as the Kingdom's first and most luxurious property, providing exceptional service and outstanding quality standards for over 40 years.

The independent Bahraini-owned property was originally built on beach land just a stone's throw from the waters of the Arabian Gulf. Following numerous reclamation projects around the area, the Gulf Hotel now rests in the heart of Manama, directly opposite the city's majestic Grand Mosque and a stroll away from the world famous restaurants in the Adliya region. Situated just 15 minutes from Bahrain International Airport, the hotel is in a prime position for leisure and business travellers visiting the island.

Featuring 357 elegant guestrooms and 97 deluxe apartment suites at the exclusive Gulf Executive Residence, the hotel is the address at which to be based when visiting Bahrain.

The hotel's dedicated Platinum Floor boasts 38 luxuriously-appointed rooms and a complimentary Platinum Lounge offering some of the best views over the city and Gulf. Guests staying on the Platinum Floor can enjoy a range of additional services designed to provide the busy business traveller with a unique five-star experience. Complimentary services include use of a private meeting room accommodating eight, private check-in and check-out, packing and unpacking services, VIP in-room amenities, deluxe breakfast, private bar, butler service, high speed internet and much more.

The Gulf Hotel is well renowned for being home to some of Bahrain's leading restaurants, making it an unamiable visitor attraction in its own right. With over 15 specialty restaurants, bars and cafés, the hotel prides itself on its gastronomy. Guests can choose to dine on a wide range of top quality and authentic cuisine, including Iranian, Thai, Lebanese, Chinese, and Western-Asian fusion, Japanese, Italian and Mexican.

The onsite Gulf Convention Centre is the largest and most impressive conference facility in Bahrain, which has been firmly on the pick-list of conference and event organisers from all over the world since its launch in May 1997. The 21- roomed state of the art facility offers 4,780 square meters of space to perfectly cater for all sizes of conferences, exhibitions and meetings.

Although offering an outstanding service for the savvy business traveller, the Gulf Hotel should not be overlooked as a fantastic leisure destination too. First class recreational facilities include a large lagoon-style swimming pool, whirlpool spa, children's pool and play area, fully-equipped health and fitness club, Jacuzzi and sauna, and expansive squash and tennis courts. This makes it the perfect location for tourists of all ages looking to enjoy the sights and entertainment of Bahrain.
